In addition to the information brought out in the above tables, I would like to call attention to a few other facts. The per cent of attendance for last year for the whole state was 94.66, while that for Warren was 92.99. It seems as though attendance might be improved if some of the simplest rules of hygiene were carefully observed. The school nurse would, of course, be glad at any time to confer with parents on matters of diet, cleanliness, clothing, and prevention of colds. We were fortunate to have federal funds available for supplying milk to twenty-four pupils during the five winter months, and the treatment of sixty-three children at the dental clinic in November. The transportation furnished by some of the friends of the school was a help in making this clinic a success.

In the summer, the school at Glenclyff was painted on the inside and the replacing the old desks by the modern adjustable type was completed. So far as may be ascertained at the present time, the equipment and buildings are in very good condition.

Respectfully submitted, EDWARD A. JANES.
